Description Of Work:

I had a 2 bedroom with den to be moved in a notoriously difficult building to move in/out of in Washington DC. Due to my profession I have an absurd amount of books and files to move. That translates to lots of heavy boxes, not to mention some heavy pieces of furniture and a mattress.

Member Comments:

On the actual day of the move I had some typical moving day issues. However I had been assured by Georgetown Moving estimator Mr. O Brien that I was in good hands. The start time for my move was 9 am that morning. I am not sure if Murphy s Law was in play that day, but at 9am, there was no moving truck. Just as I was about to panic I received a call from my crew chief for the day, Eddie. He informed me that they were running a little behind that morning due to traffic, which we all know is not an uncommon occurrence in the area. Crew arrived at around 9:30am. Still a bit skeptical I immediately relaxed as Eddie, John and Carlos went to work. They were incredibly organized and efficient, not to mention their tireless work ethic. All in all my move went very smoothly and I paid $150 less than what I was quoted. I just want express my gratitude to all at Georgetown Moving and say thanks to my movers.
